

Web Conferencing - e-Curtain

Clicking on the eCurtain bring the curtain up for all attendees. They will see the following red curtain with a custom message on it. You can also customise the music that is played while the eCurtain is down.

Attendees will see something similar to this.

You have the option to choose whether to keep the eCurtain from being dropped down yet still mute audio from the moderators.

As a moderator or presenter, you will see the following blinking button inside the room. This is an indicator that the eCurtain is active.

Clicking this will bring the eCurtain up and you will see a countdown with an “on air” message alerting you that the curtain is up and you are live.
